I have lived in Lake Arrowhead since 2015, where my wife and I built the home of our dreams, and retired from my own business just this year, which gives me the opportunity to now become actively involved in this community.

I have always been devoted to the communities of which I've been a part. As a young father, I left a successful career to be a stay-at-home dad to my three young children, and give them the value of my presence. They were my community, and I stepped up to new challenges: heading the local soccer, Little League and youth basketball leagues, the first community-based 5 year plan for our school board in what has become the top ranked district in Indiana, and immersive involvement with my kids daily growth.

Later, when the children were grown and the opportunity arose to begin my own business, I spent 20+ years serving another community – my employees and clients. I made sure most employees had salaries higher than mine and everyone had completely employer paid benefits. I demonstrated uncompromising loyalty to their growth with respect to their pasts and their potential. I have loyal clients to this day, despite my retirement, and I help them, regardless of my status.

This is important because I give my all to the communities of which I am a part, and I am ready to give my all to Lake Arrowhead.

What you need to know about me: I value fairness above all else. I won't automatically agree or disagree with a position: my history degree and journalism professor father ingrained in me that there are always multiple ways, solutions and paths that should be considered for the best of the community at large. At times, that may mean you disagree with me, and I respect that. But I'll always tell it like I see it.

I can listen well before I speak, but speak I will. I believe the recent iteration of our board has done a good job of creating a direction that helps improve our community for the homeowners and has developed a positive working relationship with our developers. While I haven't always agreed with the decisions made, I believe that we need to continue to build on our most recent successes.

This is who I am, and I look forward to the privilege of serving the entire Lake Arrowhead community.

I moved to Georgia in 2012 after my husband's passing. After several years in Miami, Florida I discovered that I had a very strong connection to the state and immediately knew it was to be my home. I have been blessed with a wonderful family and the spirit of community that is so prevalent in the state.

I have over 15 years of experience in the field of Management and have been successful in many positions throughout my career.

I've been a member of the Chair of the Board of Directors in several organizations.
